naepri J. Honder

Pacific, Westington

At prices shown in this list, I prepay transportation charges to any point in the United States or Canada. However, I do not make parcel-post shipments to esstern or mid-western points until after March 1st., except Pacific coast orders which can be shipped at any time. Orders of $10.00 or more will be shipped immediately by express if you require immediate delivery.

I do not accept retail mail orders under $2.00. On all orders of $5.00 or more, accempanied with cash in full, you may select free bulbs of your own choice to the extent of 10% of your order. If you prefer, you may send 1 cash with your order and the balance any time before shipment is wanted.

IF ANY BULB ORDER WHEN RECEIVED IS FOR ANY REASON WHATSOEVER UNSATISFACTORY, THE BULBS MAY BE RETURNED TO ME, AND YOUR MONEY PLUS TRANSPORTATION CHARGES WILL BE REFUED-ED YOU WITHOUT QUESTION. An increasing amount of my business each year is from old customers. This is my tenth year as a commercial gladiolus bulb grower.

Note that the glads on the following list are priced per 10 or per bulb, as shown after each variety. You may order 3 or 5 bulbs at the 10 rate, except that I sell no single item for less than 15¢.

Abbreviations: (cr)cream, (lav)lavender, (lt)light, (rffld)ruffled, (wh)white. Varieties recommended for commercial cut-flowers marker (#). Varieties that I recommend are marked with one star(*), and extra fine varieties with two stars(**).

OUR TENTH ANNIVERSARY SPECIAL :

I had intended to make up a very attractive "set" as a special for our tenth year as a commercial grower, but on checking over my prices I find that they are already as low as most "special set" prices. So-c-o, here is what I am going to do: With each tenth order received from this list before March 1st., I will enclose gratis ten small bulbs of Picardy (they will all blocm) in addition to any other extras you are intitled to. And, in addition, if you have sent me an order for bulbs within the list two years, I will also enclose several bulbs of other new worthwhile varieties, to show my appreciation of your continued patronage. So if your order number ends in a neight, - look out for Santa Claus, when your package arrives.

HOW TO CONTROL GLADIOLUS THRIP.

The gladiolus thrip, a tiny sucking insect that made its appearance in the east a few years ago, has now spread to all parts of the country, including the Pacific coast. The thrip feeds on the juices of the plant, and where the infestation is severe they so damage the buds that they do not open properly. The buds and bud sheath look very much like they had been scorched.

Government experts seem to be agreed that the thrip does not winter over out-doors, but are only carried over the winter on the bulbs in storage. It is a very easy matter to kill all thrips and eggs on your bulbs, so that you can be sure that you will not be bothered with them next summer, unless your careless neighbor fails to treat his and gives you a start during the growing season. The adult thrip will fly several hundred feet from one planting to another.

The following is a sure-fire method to kill thrips and eggs in storage: Place your bulbs, not too deeply, in boxes or in paper sacks, and add to them napthalene flakes (crushed moth-balks will do, if they are easier to got) at the rate of about one cunce to each hundred large bulbs. If in boxes, place a paper tightly over the top to confine the fumes, and if in paper sacks, close the mouth of the sack. Place in a fairly warm room for about three weeks, then shake out the napthalene and store bulbs for the rest of the winter in a cool place, about 40 degrees if possible.

Then in the spring at planting time, if you want to make doubly sure of the thrip, and as a fine disease preventative as well, give your bulbs either the lye treatment of the bichloride of mercury treatment. For the lye treatment, use one can of ordinary lye to about 20 to 25 gallons of water and soak the bulbs or bulblets for about eight hours, - longer will do no harm. For the bichloride treatment, use one cunce of bichloride of mercury to  $7\frac{1}{2}$  gallons of water and soak bulbs for about eight hours. Dissolve the bichloride in a quart of hot water before adding to the cold water. Use this solution only in wooden, glass, or earthenware containers. It should be handled with care as it is a deadly poison if taken internally.

And don't be content with just treating your own bulbs, - see that your neighbors and members of your flower clubs do the same. If all the gladiolus bulbs that are planted next spring, would be treated as mentioned above, it would likely be the end of the gladiolus thrip. And don't think that just because you saw no damage on your glads last summer that there cannot be any thrips on YOUR bulbs. A stray thrip or two may have flown into your patch late in the fall and now be merrily feeding, and multiplying, underneath the husks of your choicest bulbs.

In my own bulb houses I am using Cyanogas as a fumigant instead of the napthalenc flakes. We have thousands of square feet of crate and shelf space crowded with millions of bulbs, and the Cyanogas is more convenient to use for treatment of large quantities.

THE FAVORITES FOR 1932 and 1933.

While a list of the favorite varieties of any certain group of people, is not necessarily a list of the best varieties, including the new and little knewn ones, it is usually safe for the amateur to follow the choice of different gladiolus societies. Below are the favorite ten of the Washington Gladiolus Society for 1933, and of the American Gladiolus Society for 1932:

W.G.S.	1933	A. 6	G.S. 1932
